3. Dr. Tietjen has just returned from a trip through the Far East and reports that he spent a considerable amount of time with [redacted] the parents of the child whose finger was amputated. [redacted] were much heartened and encouraged by the interest shown by Tietjen who also used your name in this regard. Prior to Tietjen's arrival they seemed to be downcast and seemed to feel a lack of Agency interest in their plight. They seemed to look favorably on some sort of financial agreement which will provide about [redacted] in trust fund for the child's schooling. This will be subject to legal negotiations and Larry Houston will take it from here.

4. George Morgan, Director of the Foreign Service Institute has written DCI expressing deep appreciation for the Senior Seminar's day-long visit with us. The members of the Seminar considered the lectures and discussions presented by you and other senior members of the Agency to be "an excellent means of understanding the role of intelligence."

7. You recall a recent memo from Bud Wheelon in which he warns of the inherent risks of the [redacted]'s learning of our [redacted] [redacted] border flights either through info from the [redacted] or through their work with us at [redacted]. Upon being briefed by Elder on this memo, DCI asked the question "Why don't we brief the [redacted]?" It is a good question and I will ask the appropriate officers to formulate a response.
